4. [redacted] The Director advised that Representative Roman Pucinski called and wished to meet with him for breakfast. Apparently Pucinski wanted to do it early next week but the best time for the Director is either Wednesday or Thursday.

5. [redacted] Having received word from the Director that the next meeting of the RUSK group is 3 June 1967, I advised Russ Blandford, House Armed Services Committee staff, so he could notify Representative Rivers. We were advised that Mr. Rivers would not be in the country at that time.

6. [redacted] Miss Flanagan, in the office of Congressman Armistead Selden (D., Ala.), called and asked to be placed in touch with an Agency employee, [redacted]. After making arrangements for [redacted] to call Miss Flanagan, I called her and informed her that [redacted] would call.

14.  Met with George Norris, Counsel, House Armed Services Committee, and reviewed in part the current draft of a study to be published by the Committee entitled "The Changing Strategic Military Balance - USA versus USSR." The basic study has been prepared at the request of the Committee by a special subcommittee of the National Strategy Committee of the American Security Council, a private organization, and is signed by some twenty retired military and other individuals outside Government. No publication date has as yet been established.
